

Assistant or Associate Professor (WOT) - Pediatric Radiology, Interventional Radiology

Position Overview

Organization: Radiology

Title: Assistant or Associate Professor (WOT) - Pediatric Radiology, Interventional Radiology

Position Details

Position Description

The Department of Radiology at the University of Washington (UW) is recruiting one full-time faculty member at the level of Assistant Professor or Associate Professor without tenure, commensurate with experience, to join the Pediatric Radiology Division based at Seattle Children's Hospital in Seattle, Washington. This position has an anticipated start date of July 1, 2021. School of Medicine faculty members have an annual service period of 12 months (July 1 - June 30)

Clinical responsibilities include patient care in interventional radiology. Additional responsibilities include teaching and supervision of medical students, residents, and fellows, contribution to weekly interdepartmental clinical conferences, quality assurance and continuous process improvement, engagement in academic and research activities, and assigned administrative duties. All UW faculty engage in teaching, research, and service.

Seattle Children's is a 360+-bed medical regional center; over 136,000 pediatric imaging examinations per year are performed across all modalities within the Hospital and associated outpatient clinics. Successful applicants will join our 3 current full time pediatric interventional radiologists, 2 advanced practice providers and 25 pediatric diagnostic radiology faculty members, participating in the ongoing education of 4-5 fellows and 6-9 residents. The institution is committed to clinical and research excellence, and pediatric radiologists are encouraged and supported in clinical and basic research efforts. Compensation and fringe benefits are competitive.

Qualifications

Successful candidates must have an M.D., or foreign degree equivalent in the field, possess or be eligible for full medical licensure in Washington State, have completed an ACGME Interventional Radiology fellowship, including experience in pediatrics, board certification (or eligibility) in interventional radiology, and have a demonstrated commitment for a career in academic radiology as documented through peer-reviewed publications and presentations at regional and national meetings. In order to be eligible for University sponsorship for an H-1B visa, graduates of foreign (non-U.S. medical schools must show successful completion of all three steps of the U.S. Medical Licensing (USMLE), or equivalent as determined by the Secretary of Health and Human Services.
