

Faculty Member, Pediatric Interventional Radiology Department of Radiology, Children's Hospital Colorado, University of Colorado Denver

Job Summary

Children's Hospital Colorado (CHCO) is seeking a fellowship-trained, CAQ eligible, Interventional Radiologist with subspecialty interest and expertise in Pediatric Interventional Radiology to join their group of 24 board certified pediatric radiologists. Currently, a subset of 4 pediatric interventionalists perform 3000 procedures per year. CHCO is in the process of building a new interventional radiology department that includes two interventional suites and is slated to open in 2020. CHCO is a free-standing children's hospital affiliated with the University of Colorado School of Medicine. The CHCO network of care covers 585 beds and is consistently rated in the top 10 Children's Hospitals by U.S. News & World Report.

Duties

This physician will perform diagnostic and therapeutic pediatric interventional procedures on a daily basis at CHCO. Call responsibilities are typically every fourth night and weekend. Fellow, resident, and medical student education in both an outpatient and inpatient setting are critical components of the position.

Minimum Qualifications

Medical Degree or equivalent, Colorado Medical License, ABR Certification, Interventional Radiology Fellowship Training, CAQ eligible

Required Competencies

Competency is required in the performance of diagnostic arteriography, vascular intervention, oncologic intervention including intra-arterial and percutaneous therapies, biliary, genitourinary, and GI intervention. Specific experience in application of listed competencies in the pediatric population will be necessary.

Preferred Qualifications

Pediatric Radiology and/or Pediatric Interventional Radiology Fellowship Training. The individual would have a proven interest in clinical research, and bench research is a strong possibility.
